Welcome to Issue 3!

In this issue, we interviewed foreign students studying abroad at Chubu University. We think they’re some very interesting interviews, and we hope you enjoy them.

We are planning one more issue, but unfortunately we won’t be able to finish it before the end of this semester. So look forward to it at the beginning of Fall 2011.

See you again next semester, and have a great break!

We interviewed Anthony Aldridge. He from is West Virginia University. His reason to study abroad in Japan is to improve his Japanese. He likes Japanese culture like games, animation and comics. He especially likes Final Fantasy, One Piece, Cowboy Bebop and Azumanga Daioh. But, he did not see the last scene of Azumanga Daioh because he doesn't want the story to end. He likes Sushi, Katsu, Udon, Daifuku and Manju. He said, "Japanese meat dishes are delicious!" But he likes vegetables and natto too. He went to a Gaijin Bar in spring. Someone taught French to him there.

July

-The summer vacation is coming!-
At the end of July, we have big exams. But, after the exams finish, the summer vacation is waiting for us. Do you have plans for the summer vacation?

If you want to go camping, you should go to Hida-Kozaka woody land Hureai-no-mori in Gifu. You can try the jumbo chute that is 127 meters long in that park. You can also go cycling, go swimming in the river, go fishing, or have a BBQ. There is a hot spring near the park. You can visit it if you want.

If you want to see fire-works, you should go to Nagoya Port Festival. This festival is very famous in Aichi. It is held on July 18th this year. If you want to go, you should take the train that call Meikou-line to Tsukiji-station.

If you want proof of ghosts or to show that you are brave, you should go to a horror spot. We recommend Chosen tunnel (朝鮮トンネル) near Ena. It is super dangerous!! There are a lot of ghosts but, there are more falling rocks. If you really want to go, you should use bicycle or walk or wear the helmet.

Enjoy your summer!

Her name is Zhao Jingshu. She is from China. She is a junior and her major is Communication Studies in the department of Humanities. Her university in China and Chubu university are sister schools. That is why she came to Chubu. This time is not her first time to come to Japan. When she was a high school student, she came to Japan once. But she could not speak Japanese then. After she went back to China, she studied Japanese and came to Japan again. She has studied Japanese for three years, speak Japanese fluently. She can also speak English. She started studying English when she was in kindergarten. Her English skill is native level I think. She is very smart.

She is living in the dormitory now. Many international students live there. She has her own room. When she has a day off, she often relaxes in her room or she works at her part time job. Chubu has special classes for international students. Every Friday, they have a class that is actual study experience. They can study Japanese culture such as Japanese flower arrangement, Japanese ceramic art and sightseeing. They went to Kyoto and Nara for sightseeing class.

This August, she will go back to China. She misses local friends. She wants to meet them soon. Is it kind of home sick? Haha!

His name is Joe Eagan. He is from Cameron, West Virginia. His hometown has a lot of forest. He plays video games with his family and friends when he is there. Now, he is living in Chubu University's dorm. On weekdays he walks five to ten minutes to school. He contacts to his family with Skype, AIM, and AOL every two weeks.

When he has free time in Japan, he hangs out with his friends and goes sightseeing. He goes to interesting places every weekend. He feels that the biggest difference between Japan and West Virginia is food. He usually eats sandwiches when he was in West Virginia. However, now he eats cabbage every meal. He misses his family, food, and friends.

Before he came to Japan, he took Japanese classes for 6 semesters at West Virginia University. After that he was in a one-year program. So, he has to return to his hometown this August. Before he returns to his hometown, he has to take Japanese Language Proficiency Test. He wants to take level 3. Finally, he wants to take 2 level some time this year in America.
